● ABOUT ME

I'm Sirwan Ahmed Mahmood, a dedicated professional in Medical Laboratory Technology. With a strong academic record – ranking second in my class – I've gained expertise in areas like Medical Biochemistry and Immunology.

My professional journey includes roles as a College Demonstrator and Medical Representative, refining my communication and organizational skills. Proficient in software like Microsoft Office, I bring dedication and adaptability to every task.

Beyond work, I'm a committed researcher and volunteer in healthcare support for displaced individuals. I'm eager to explore opportunities that align with my skills and values to make a meaningful impact.

● WORK EXPERIENCE

15/09/2018 – 01/07/2021 Zakho, Iraq

COLLEGE DEMONSTRATOR COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND MEDICAL TECHNIQUES - SHEKHAN

As a College Demonstrator at Duhok Polytechnic University (DPU), my primary role was to provide crucial teaching support to the course organizer. Key responsibilities included:

Tutorials: Conducting engaging tutorial sessions to reinforce course materials and promote critical thinking.

Lab Sessions: Efficiently managing and supervising laboratory sessions, enhancing practical understanding.

Exam Monitoring: Administering and monitoring examinations, ensuring academic integrity.

Non-Exam Marking: Grading assignments, coursework, and projects with timely and accurate feedback.

Quick Feedback Support: Offering prompt and constructive feedback to students, aiding in their academic progress.

● COMMUNICATION AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Communication skills

Significantly refined during my tenure as both a Medical Representative and College Demonstrator. As a Medical Representative, I crafted and implemented communication strategies to effectively engage healthcare professionals, fostering productive professional relationships. In my role as a College Demonstrator, I actively honed my ability to listen attentively, ensuring I could address students' needs comprehensively and articulate complex subject matter with clarity. These experiences collectively reinforced my proficiency in interpersonal communication and adaptability when connecting with various audiences.

Clarity and Concision

My experience as a Medical Technologist has equipped me with the ability to convey complex information with clarity and concision. This skill is essential in ensuring that medical information is effectively communicated to both colleagues and patients.

Empathy

In my role as a College Demonstrator, I gained valuable experience in empathetically supporting and guiding students in their educational journey. This skill translates into my ability to connect with individuals on a personal level, fostering a positive and compassionate professional environment.

Open-Mindedness

As a Medical Representative, I learned to approach diverse perspectives and ideas with an open mind, allowing me to adapt and connect with various stakeholders effectively. This open-mindedness is crucial in healthcare, where collaboration and innovation are key to success.

● ORGANISATIONAL SKILLS

Problem Solving

Over the years, I have encountered various challenges in my roles as a Medical Representative, College Demonstrator, and Laboratory Technologist. In each instance, I have leveraged my problem-solving skills to identify root causes, develop effective solutions, and ensure smooth task execution. This includes addressing logistical issues in pharmaceutical sales, resolving academic queries as a demonstrator, and troubleshooting complex laboratory procedures.

Multitasking

My ability to efficiently manage multiple tasks is evident in my experiences as a College Demonstrator and Laboratory Technologist. These roles demanded simultaneous involvement in diverse responsibilities, from conducting laboratory sessions and providing academic support to managing administrative duties. My adeptness at multitasking allowed me to meet deadlines and maintain a high standard of work in both educational and healthcare settings.

Task Prioritization

Task prioritization has been integral to my success as I navigated the demands of academia and the healthcare industry. As a College Demonstrator, I meticulously organized tutorial sessions, laboratory work, and exam invigilation while maintaining a keen focus on the most critical aspects of student support. Similarly, as a Laboratory Technologist, I prioritized tasks to ensure efficient specimen analysis and laboratory operations.

● OTHER SKILLS

Good time manager, hard worker, Excellence communication behavior also quick learner to do anything.

● HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Cooking and Traveling

● PUBLICATIONS
